IN DEFENSE OF THE CUP.

Only Once Has a Challenger Won a Race, and Then Through Her

The America Cup, although frequently alluded to as "the Queen's Cup," is not, nor ever was, a Queen's Cup. It was offered as the "One Hundred Guinea Cup" by the Royal Yacht Squadron of Cowes, for competition, open to yachts of all nations, in 1851.

yachts of all nations, in 1851.

It was won over a course around the Isle of Wight, by the Reel schooner America, Aug. 22, 1851. The race was without time allowance as a merica safling against a fleet of fourteen yachts, four of which were of greater tonnage, and one, the three-masted schooner Brilliant, of 392 tons, against her 170. The American schooner won by 8 minutes, the 47-ton cutter Aurora being second, and the fleet far behind.

Nineteen races have been sailed in United States waters in defense of the cup, which was offered on July 8, 1857, as a perpetual challenge trophy, to be raced for under the auspices of the New York Yacht Club. The deed of gift has twice been changed since the original draft was made by the owners of the old schooner, J. C. Stevens, E. A. Stevens, Hamilton Wilkes, J. Beekman Finley and George L. Schuyler. All of the donors are now dead.

The following table shows the record of all races sailed in defense of the cup:

On only one occasion has a challenger won a single race, viz.: Oct. 19, 1871, Columbia having been disabled. The N. Y. Y. Valkyrie II., in her last race, finished closer to the winner than in the case of any other defeated challenger.

Yale's team are resting quietly to-day, and express themselves as well to do battle for the trophy. This is the ques-tion that, according to the communication sent tout by the Committee, the League Presidents are called upon to decide.

It is not unnatural that the West should combine and vote upon the side taken by Nick Young. The majority of the Western magnates have expressed themselves as favoring this side of the question, therefore it looks as though the worst the West can get is a tie vote.

On the other hand the Eastern magnates will nat be surprising if they take the Byrne side of the argument. There are one or two Eastern clubs, however, that are likely to hold over to the Westerners. In such a case, it is all over with the Giants chances of defending the trophy.

Although the chances are against New York the final decision will be looked for with literast.
